

What makes you think the green movement has

No Agenda?

The Communist Party USA's environmental program "presents a viable plan to carry out on the long march to socialism."

- Havel Wolf, Seattle Audubon Society

www.yaf.org

This counterculture information brought to you by the Young America's Foundation

What makes you think the green movement has

No Agenda?

"There is no other single force that has opened up the private sector to the public more than environmental regulations.

There is no such thing as private industry anymore. It's all public."

-Dr. Richard Allison, professor of environmental management at the University of Houston

www.yaf.org

This counterculture information brought to you by the Young America's Foundation

What makes you think the green movement has

No Agenda?

"I think if we don't overthrow capitalism, we don't have a chance of saving the world ecologically. I think it is possible to have an ecologically sound society under socialism. I don't think it's possible under capitalism."

- Judi Bari, EarthFirst!

www.yaf.org

This counterculture information brought to you by the Young America's Foundation

What makes you think the green movement has

No Agenda?

"There is no other single force that has opened up the private sector to the public more than environmental regulations. There is no such thing as private industry anymore. It's all public."

-Dr. Richard Allison, professor of environmental management at the University of Houston

www.yaf.org

This counterculture information brought to you by the Young America's Foundation

